Noted Speaker is Accused of Illegal Action in Connection With Public Career; Court Sets Hearing for Dec. 3

When Miss Charlotte Anita Whitney, arrested last night as she was leaving Hotel Oakland on a charge of criminal syndicalism, appeared, with her attorney, Miss Gail Laughlin of San Francisco, in Judge Samuel's court this morning for arraignment, it was to plead for postponment. Judge Samuels set the date of the formal arraignment for 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, December 3. Miss Laughlin stated to the court that the defendant needed time in which to engage counsel and prepare her answer. It is understood that Miss Laughlin will act as attor-ney for Miss Whitney until criminal expert counsel is engaged.

Accompanying Miss Whitney to the courtroom was a small party of civic workers and friends, including Dr. Susan Fenton, Mrs. Alma Kower, wife of a University of California professor, and Mrs. Florence M Sully, her bondswomen; Mrs. Halvon Hauch of Alameda, Mrs. Clare Shipman, John M. ## To Metal Trade Workers

Of the San Francisco Bay District

The shippards, commercial shops and foundries of the Bay District reopened for active operation on November 24th.

At noon yesterday, November 28th, there were more than 8000 men working in the yards and commercial shops. This number does not include either foremen or office help.

We thought we had made it clear in past announcements that the men who came to work now would be protected in every way. Many personal requests and letters have been received, however, from men seeking assurance that returned employes would not be deprived of their jobs later through agreements entered into with the unions.

THIS IS TO RENEW OUR EMPHATIC AS-SURANCE THAT WE WILL IN THE FUTURE STAND BY THE MEN THAT COME TO WORK NOW.

We have definitely announced the program of dealing collectively with the men in the various yards and plants. It will be up to the men themselves and the employers in the future to determine the efficiency of this

The sole purpose of the proposed collective bargaining plan was to establish closer and better relations in the future between the men and the management.

Announcement was made that after December 3d yards and commercial shops would bring men into San Francisco to fill the places then vacant.

Notice that we would fill vacancies from the outside was given because we have no desire to deprive men formerly employed in any of the metal trades in this district of the opportunity to continue or resume that employment.

We gave them ten days to think it over.

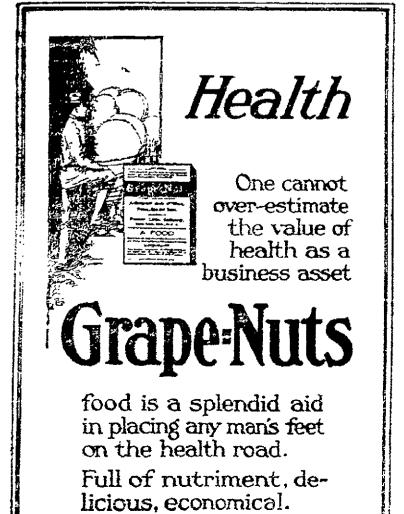

We stated plainly, however, that it was our purposs to operate shipyards and commercial shops and that if old employes did not see fit to return to their positions others would be given their places.

It is not our purpose to import strikebreakers.

Our announcements to men in other localities seeking work will state plainly that qualified men will be permanently employed under our publicly-announced wage schedule and working conditions. These announcements will appear on December 4th.

You as individuals, therefore, must determine with yourselves whether or not you follow the lead of those already at work and return to your steady employment under a guaranty that the rate of wages being paid will be continued until October 1, 1920.

AMBITION TO BE GREAT.

Men have ambitions of various sorts, the ambition to have public position and the ambition to have great wealth, find their source in the same desire, a thirst for power. A desire twealth, find their source in the same desire, a thirst for power. A desire is waitherity over those who because of subordinate position or comparative poverty are required to serve. Wealth may be achieved by dishonest practices, and political power may be achieved by corrustion and deception. The power of wealth and the power of position thus obtained are never the-position thus obtained are never the-position.

By DR. JAMES E. TALMACH. Of the Council of the Twelve, Church of Jesus Christ of Litter Day Saints; Salt Lake City, Utah, Note: For free copies of other articles of this series send request to the author.

We live in a material world, and certain material possessions are essential to life, to say nothing of convenience and comfort. Man must have food, clothing and shelter, and he should have the means of intellectual enjoyment, wholesome recreation, and the desirable comforts of life. All these things are comprised in what we call wealth, and under present social conditions are represented by the one word money. Is it not true that money or its equivalent—the essential things that money can buy- must be counted among the necessities of life?

By misquotation we hear it said that money is the root of all evil, but the Scriptures say not so. The inspired declaration reads: "For the love of money is the root of all evil." (1 Tim 6:10). As soon as one sets his heart on rioney he becomes unbalanced in mind and spirit; his vision and perspective are disturbed.

The varied and graded vocations will still exist; there will be laborattend the services and visit their ability to lead and direct, some who can best serve with the pen, others with the plow, there will be orgineers and mechanics, artizans and artists, farmers and scholars, teachers and authors- each laboring so far as practicable in the sphere of his choice but each required to work, and to work where and how he can be of the greatest service. Equal rights are to be insured, for thes the Lord hath spoken:

And you are to be equal, or in other words, you are to have equal claims on the properties, for the benefit of managing the concerns of sour stewardships, every man according to his wants and his needs, inasmuch as his wants are just." (Doctrone and Covenants $2, 17.)

Only the idler would suffer under such an order of things as is here outlined, and against him the ed.c. of the Almighty has gone forth. We read in the revelations of the Church . "Thou shalt not be idle; for he that is lifle shall not cat the bread nor wear the garments of the laborer,"

In the early part of the apostolic munistry, the unity and devetion of the Church was such that the members established a system of community ownership. (Acts 2.14-16; 4.52-37, 6.1-4), and during the brief period of its operation the people prospered temporally and spiritually. More than thirty centuries earlier the people of Enoch had reloced in a similar condition of oneness, and their righteousness was such that "The Lord rame and dwelt with His people. And the Lord called His people Zion, because they were of one heart and one mind, and dwelt in right-coursess; and there was no poor among them." (Pearl of Great Price,

The people of whom the Book of Mormon bears record also attained a blessed state of equality and with corresponding results. The Twelve Disciples, whom Christ had specially commissioned, ministered with such effectiveness that the people "bad all things common among them, every man dealing justly one with another." (2 Nophi 26:19). Further, "Therefore they were not rich and poor, bond and free, but they were all made free, and partakers of the heavenly gift." (I Nephi 1:3.) Of them the prophet wrote: "Surely there could not be a happier people among all the people who had been created by the hand of God." The United Order will be a success when it is established by Divine direction. The tithing system has faced whenever meddled with by the secular power. Common ownership can never be enforced by the law of the land. It must be a religious observance, of voluntary acceptance devoid of compulsion or restraint; and as such, the world shall yet see this, the Lord's plan, in successful operation. For the Book of Mormon, etc., apply to California Mission, 1819 Hayes Street, San Francisco: or 153 West Adams Street, Los Angeles, Calif. ## Dr. Silsley Will Finish His Series

Rev. Frank M. Silsley will preach the last in a series of sermons at the First Presbyterian Church on Sun-day evening. His subject is: "Shall We Drop Christ's Healing for the Body?"

He will answer these questions:
Does Christ have any relation to our body? Is it true that He has nothing to do with cures? Is the average conception of the body Christian or Pagan? Is Christ the great physician to ledp us in time of illness? Are the temarkable cures that we hear of true or false?

There is not a second today en-

There is not a so ject today engaging more study than the healing ministry of Christ, he says. It is the purpose of Dr. Silsley to state Christ's gospel for the needs of the body.

The fine new chorus of forty voices will give a special program from the great Masters. Mr. Walter B. Kennedy, the new organist, will give an organ recital at the conclusion of the evening service.

At the morning service Dr. Silster will preach on the subject: "Special Temptation and Special Grace." his text being, "And he wist not that the Lord was departed from him." Judges

What Some Bone Disease: Are—How They're Relieved

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Ropkins University.)

If you were sung a song of oxycephaly, , achorndorplasia, osteopathyrosis, osteogenesis imperfecta, leontiasis orsea, osteitis deformas, acromegaly or arthritis deformans you would laugh loudly, for such "hibrow" terminology would be a joke to you. Nevertheless, these are real names of actual maladies.

A skull overgrowth associated with bulgy eyeballs is called oxycephaly. Achondroplasis is the name of a disorder of the cartilages, due to an invasion of the bone covering, which prevents the growth of the bones and makes dwarfs. A rare affection, which makes the bones thin, brittle and as fragile as a lobster's shell, is osteopsathyrosis. Osteogenisis imperfecta is a condition in which the normal bony development fails and the bones bend.

Sometimes the bones of the face and the cranium become knotted, large and giant-like. It is called leontiasis ossea. Osteitis deformans is a chronic condition of the bones, characterized by huge size and

The main machinery room, 450 Pect long, presented a picture of ruin after the fire was put out. The room contains $198,000 worth of machinery, which on casal inspection, appears to have been destroyed. They explain that only the material in the roof burned, the main structure being concrete. The roof was of word tar and gravel. and the principal damage to the machinery was caused by its falling in upon and burning around the Preliminary plans for what should be the best organized basketball league in the state were made last night when a huge meeting was held in the assembly room on the roof of The Oakland TRIB-UNE building. Although but two notices of the meeting were published the attendance of managers and enthusiasts was the largest on record for a similar purpose. William H. Hollander, who coached several championship teams for the Stetson University a few years, and who is now basketball coach at the University of California, was selected president, with Chester Grimmett landing the position of secretary-treasurer. Another meeting is to be held before the league will be definitely organized, but as it now stands, there are six clubs entered in the unlimited class, and five each in the 145 and 130 pound class.

Deschieftin Winified Black's Column

667 FIRMLY believe that this letter should be published and I republished and pasted and posted on everey sign post from here to the coast as a warning to all women-BEWARE OF

THAT'S the postscript to a letter which has just come to me and 1 as I read the letter over again I begin to believe in the postscript more and more.

But I can't offer the letter in this column, for it is much too long. and it is so closely knit together that if you cut out one line of it you wouldn't know what the rest was all about.

And yet it is an old, old story, told in the old, old way. How is it that we never tire of hearing or of telling it-the ancient story of a woman's selfish folly and a man's selfish deceit? The woman in this case was married to a good man. Kind, con-

One day he brought a dear friend home to dinner and the dear friend took a fancy to the wife, and the wife took a fancy to the dear friend, and for three years the wife and the dear friend of the husband deceived the husband. Then one day the husband found a letter and the whole shameful, miserable, cruel, wicked story came out. The husband forgave his wife. He was sorry for her and thought We'd like t' live in that she was the victim of a elever man's duplicity. But he could not forget and every once in awhile the husband taunts the wife and shows that he no longer trusts her. She bore the taunts the best she could, but now comes the last thrust of the dagger—the man in the ease is going to marry another woman and he hasn't even apologized to his dear friend's wife for his plans. And his dear friend's wife can't stand it another minute -she simply can't.

The man's a fiend, a traitor, a degenerate. Remorse follows the wife by day and torments her by nights. She wants to die and dares not commit suicide, and now she wants her story told from the housetops as a warning to women against men.

I should think the woman's husband would want to have his wife's letter published as a warning to men against women.

The man who deceived you, my poor woman, what kind of deceit was there about it? You knew you had no right to listen to him and he knew it, too. You knew he was deceiving your husband in the most shameless kind of a way. Had you no shame yourself that you would help him in such deceit?

If you had no sense of honor, no pride, no ideal of morality, couldn't your gratitude and your plain common honesty come to

The dog that bites the hand that feeds him is no more of an ingrate than a woman who will accept the protection and the care and the competency of her husband and betray him right under his own roof.

If you were so desperately in love with this man why didn't you run away with him and be done with it? Didn't you care enough for the dear friend of your husband to give up your home, your good name, your place in society and your husband's protection? If you didn't, then why did you care enough for him to deceive for his sake a man who was good to you? Is it remorse that keeps you awake at night and haunts your every step by day or is it wounded vanity, bitter hatred and green-eyed jealousy of the other

On the day that he first began to try to make you betray your husband he showed you that he was exactly what he was. On the day that you let your own tolly, your own yamiy and your own impulses run away with you, you planted the seed for exactly what you are suffering now.

Sorry for you? Why, of course I am, and the wickeder you are the removal of her appendix and a der the wing of Myron Selznick, who lieve you are the sorrier I am, for the wickeder you are the more you will have long hospital confinement. Lois Wil-evidently believes in the luck of the power FF

But I can't see why you should want to warn women to beware bruises and scratches and despite of men because of this experience. You should warn women to beware of themselves, and if they do that there is no man in the world that can make them do what they know is wrong.

BEWARE OF YOURSELF! That's the warning your letter con- william Uox field, has been offered tains, my poor, foolish, vain little woman. And may that warning, the leading feminine part with Duspublished in this column today, he widely read—and heeded, seeking Ernst. Although he was prevented from reaching Ernst, half a dozen other fights started as the result of McGuire's entrance. The trouble started over a report favoring "one big union," and declaring "certain officers of the federation to be parliamentary autocrats and holding office by dithis remark and Ernst then linked McGnire's name with Murphy's, the former being absent.

the man who will succeed Council-man Greene Majors when the latter resigns is spreading generally, but so far there is no direct line on what One councilman, approached by The THIBUNE representative, said has much that he knew nothing about the matter only what he had read and that Councilnan Majors had not yet resigned man Majors had not yet resigned. He added, that certainly the council would not make a move till after the resignation of Majors was properly before the council. He added that the first news he had had of the proposed resignation was when he was approached by a candidate for the place. He declined to give this candidate's name.

Another councilman said that he aid not know who would get the place, and that no arrangements for a caucus had been made by the mayor or council, adding that a caucus would be premature at this time when the only resignation information available was the pub-lished story that Councilman Majors intended to quit the council. Till the didn't have the courage to stand on resignation is before the council, he their feet in the face of the chalsaid, nothing would be done and he thought it a waster of time for canterviewing councilmen regarding a may place its stamp of approval possible vacancy to be filled in the brought protest from Mrs. Meyer

TWO NAMES MENTIONED . So far two names have been men-tioned with more or less frequency. One is E. R. Neiss, an East End resident. His friends are urging that the East End should be given consideration and a council representative and urge that Neiss is equalified to fill the bill. The other man named is H. D.

Maynard, who was one of the two leaders of the second division, the also-rans, in the campaign after the new charter was adopted. Maynard was seventh man in a field of twenty-five. The five winners were Otis. Majors, Probst, Noy and Dilman. Dilman later resigned because of war duties, and Lathem, the high man of the second division of candi-dates, was chosen as Dillman's successer. Erriends of Naynard are urging that his showing in the election field is a cleear indication that many Alamedans wished him to have a council place. Maynard and Lathem were neck and neck for leading honors of the second division, the five victors defeating these two candidates by narrow margins. The Maynard campaign is so far confined to the boosting of his friends. Maynard not yet announcing that he is a candidate for the place.

It is expected that several other
